“Camp Keely” is my week-long kids’ camp. It runs from 10am - 5pm, Monday through Friday, out of my home in Silver Spring, Maryland. Each day, I pick a nature theme and lead the kids through crafts, adventures, games, stories, cooking, and/or science projects inspired by that theme. The camp is indoor and outdoor, and the overriding goal is for kids to learn and experience basic naturalism and to get time to bond with the natural world. There is down time amongst the activities, for kids to be themselves in the outdoors.

IMPORTANT DETAILS:

- Timing: Kids can be dropped off and picked up any time between 10am and 5pm. However, please let me know your intentions regarding timing so we can ensure we won’t be mid-hike (or mid-mess) when you come to pick or drop off.
- Food: Kids should pack a bag lunch every day. Note: the kids love to trade! I will also provide healthy snacks, plus a creative treat for each day at camp. Please let me know about any allergies, diets, and intolerances at the beginning of camp so that I can adjust my cooking projects. Also, please pack a WATER BOTTLE to take on excursions.
- Clothes: Kids need to be prepared to WALK and to MAKE A MESS. That means that kids need to be equipped each day with both decent walking shoes AND a grubby pair of clothes to change into when it’s mess-making time. In some cases, bathing suits and goggles or other gear will also be required: I will let you know each day what special supplies to bring the next day. Unless there is lightning, we do go out in the rain.
- Safety: I am Red Cross Certified for pediatric First Aid/CPR/AED. Each day’s activities will be discussed with parents ahead of time to determine appropriate safe boundaries for each child. Please send your kid with any needed health supplies.

My current discount price is $180 for the entire camp. You can also contact me to negotiate special prices for multiple kids, and for dropping in for specific days.
